

IV WORLD PLANNING SCHOOLS CONGRESS – RIO DE JANEIRO, July, 3rd to 8th, 2016

Call for papers

The initiative to organize World Planning Schools Congresses came up with the formation of a global network by national and regional associations of planning schools and institutes around the world in 2001. Since then this network, the GLOBAL PLANNING EDUCATION NETWORK – GPEAN -, assigns the organization of each World Congress to one or more schools of one of its members.

As responsible for the 4th edition of WPSC, the GPEAN designated the Institute of Urban and Regional Research and Planning – IPPUR – at the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro – UFRJ -, a member of the Brazilian Association of Research and Graduate Studies in Urban and Regional Planning – ANPUR.

For more details about organization, schedules, key dates, tracks and the procedure to submit proposals for this IV WPSC in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, check out the website www.wpsc2016.com.br.

Final date for submission of abstracts has been extended to October, 19th, 2015 (10/19/2015)

Some additional information:

Evaluation by the co-chairs: November 2015

Communication of Acceptance: last week of November

Start of Registration: December 2015

Early bird: January 2016

Evaluation of complete papers for those who need it for funding their participation: referral of papers until March, 4th, 2016

The tracks accept proposals for papers in the form of:

(i) Individual submission (with several co-authors) for a particular track as oral presentation of a full paper (non peer review); and (ii) proposals for the collective organization of Roundtable/Panel within a track, which features contributions from several authors. (iii) Other modalities like Poster Presentation or Specially Convened Sessions – (a) academic only; (b) policy research only; and (c) academic and policy research – have to be combined directly with the co-chairs of the tracks.

Those, who want to participate in these modalities, must be registered necessarily for attendance.
