0. SYNTHETIC PROFILE

EDUCATION > Born in 1972, Architect, Valeria Fedeli is Associate Professor at the Department of Architecture and Urban Studies, Politecnico di Milano since December 2014. She obtained her PhD in Planning and Public policies, IUAV, Venice, Italy in 2001: for her PhD thesis she was awarded in 2002 with the "Giovanni Ferraro" prize for the best doctoral national dissertation in Spatial Planning. She also holds an Advanced Master Degree in Planning at the Scuola di Specializzazione in Pianificazione Territoriale e Ambientale at Politecnico di Milano, 2001-2002. She has been Post-doc research fellow at Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Paris, France, in 2003, exploring institutional innovation and decentralization policies in France, funded by the European Training Network program URBANEUROPE. She has been researcher and lectures at Politecnico di Milano since 2007.

RESEARCH ACTIVITIES > Since 2001 she has taken part, also with roles of team coordination, in national and international research projects, dealing with the following research topics: innovation in urban and territorial policies (COFIN/2002 "Urban and territorial policies between Government e Governance", national coordinator prof. P.L. Crosta, IUAV); spatial change and innovations in urban and territorial governance/ policies (PRIN/2005, "The territories of the changing cities: innovations in descriptions and policies", national coordinator prof. A. Balducci, POLITECNICO DI MILANO); urban change and policy challenges in urban regions in Italy (PRIN /2010-11 "Post-metropolitan territories as emergent forms of urban space: the challenges of sustainability, livability and governance", national coordinator prof. A. Balducci, POLITECNICO DI MILANO); the production of usable knowledge in policy design and planning (EU FP6, STREP "Governance for Sustainability G-FORS", dedicated to explore the relationship between governance forms and the production of knowledge in the field of policies for sustainability; EU FP7, PERIPHERIA and EU FP7, MYNEIGHBOURHOOD, MYCITY, dedicated to explore the logic of co-design and Living Lab in planning processes).

RESEARCH INTERESTS > Since 2001 she has developed an autonomous research activity which aims at combining her interests for policy studies, urban studies, planning studies, governance and institutional studies. In particular she is interested in exploring the interaction between forms of spatial change and processes of social, political, institutional change in large urban regions. From this perspective she focuses in particular on the necessity to rethink both current territorial geographies and consolidated approaches to spatial planning, in order to reinvent a consistent nexus between territory, sovereignty and citizenship, able to face and deal with the challenges of contemporary urban question.

Her research activity concerns in particular:

- a. strategic planning: she is interested in exploring the limits and failures of traditional statutory planning and looks at the international debate about "strategic planning" as a relevant one to develop more efficient and legitimate forms of planning for contemporary cities and societies. She has published several journal articles and case reports, edited a national book and co-authored an international publication on this topic both related to theory and practices, analysed through national and international cases;

- b. metropolitan governance, coordination modes and the emergence of new spatial actors: she has been developing a specific research focus on metropolitan governance and coordination modes as ways to deal with the wicked problem of planning in large urban regions seen as complex, fragmented and plural actors' arenas. She is interested in studying the emergence of new spatial actors and coalitions, that are currently producing the restructuring of powers and action in the urban and regional contexts (see in particular her research on the role of universities as urban and spatial actors). at the same time she is interested in both analysis and design of institutional innovations and soft governance approaches able to foster and support coordination and integration of actors, resources, policies. She has published several national and international articles on this topic based on national and international references, in particular studying in depth the Italian and the French contexts;
- c. processes of territorial transformation and challenges to the field of urban and territorial policies and territorial governance: she has developed a specific interest and attention to major processes of territorial transformation affecting Italian urban and metropolitan areas, as well as European. In particular she is interested in contributing to the international debate on the nature of the urbanisation processes in contemporary world, dealing with current challenging interpretations (post-metropolis, Soja, 2011, planetary urbanisation, Brenner, 2013; suburbanisation, Keil 2012) which aim at introducing new ways to interpret the urban phenomenon and its challenges. She has co-edited two national books on that and a number of research article;
- d. EU spatial policies and urban policies: she has developed a specific attention to the European integration project: on the one hand she has focussed on the governance dimension, exploring the difficult institutional construction of the European Union as a crucial terrain of innovation and reflection also with reference to the spatial policy domain. She has co-edited one book on this topic. More recently she has developed a specific interest on the role of cities in the construction of European Union and the role assigned to cities and urban challenges in the EU Agenda. In particular she is interested in contributing to the international scholarly debate on the innovation introduced by the EU in the urban policy field, producing hybridation of planning cultures all over Europe; at the same time she is deeply interested in the current international debate on the necessity and opportunity of a new urban agenda at EU level, in a strong interaction with the construction of a national urban agenda at State level, especially in the Italian context.
- e. Expert knowledge and tacit knowledge in urban policies and spatial planning: over the years she has been developing, within different research frameworks, a specific interest on the production and use of knowledge in the field of spatial planning and urban policies. in particular following the idea of the necessity to develop a "post-euclidean" approach to planning (Friedmann, 1994) and the production of 'usable knowledge' (Lindblom, 1978) she is interested in exploring the interaction between expert knowledge and lay and tacit knowledge in spatial planning, policy design, governance processes. She has written a number of book chapters on that, trying to interact with theories challenging planning theory and practices.

She has developed these research interests within nationally and internationally funded research projects, but also within a number of consultancy projects developed in interdisciplinary teams on the base of research contracts promoted between local public administrations and the University Department (see complete CV).

TEACHING ACTIVITIES > She has been Lecturer in Planning at Politecnico di Milano, since 2001, where she has taught at the Bachelor Level in Planning course in Italian and in English- both thematic courses and Workshop integrated courses, related to Urban Analysis ; since 2013, she is also teaching European Urban Policies at Master level (Urban Planning and Policy Design). She is Member of the Board of the Urban Planning, Design and Policy PHD Program, where she has been co-responsible, over the last five years of the Research methodology Module – Writing a bibliographic Essay- together with different colleagues. She is currently supervisor of PHD, Master and Bachelor thesis.

INTERNATIONAL ACTIVITIES > Since 2001 she has activated, throughout the promotion of different international networking activities presenting papers at international conferences, a series of collaboration and exchanges with colleagues all over Europe, interested in developing research programs on the field of institutional innovation, governance and urban and territorial policies. She is currently national representative of Italy at Committee of Representatives of AESOP- Association of European Schools of Planning and Member of the Jury for the AESOP Excellence in Teaching Prize since 2014; she is member of the Advisory Board of EURA, the European Urban Research Association; she was Chair of the Local organizing committee of XI Eura Conference in 2008 in Milan; she is member of the International Scientific Committee of the CITYFUTURES Conference to be held in Paris in June 2014. She has been appointed Honorary Researcher at “Intelligent urbanization Co-Creation Center for High Density Regions” in 2013, based in Shanghai at Tongji University and in February 2014 she has been visiting professor at the Institut d’Urbanisme de Paris, where she is also Scientific member of the Scientific Coordination Committee of the Programme Urban Futures (LABEX. PRES, Université Paris-Est).

INSTITUTIONAL ROLES AND MAIN RESPONSABILITIES > In 2013 she has been appointed Member of the Executive Board of the Department of Architecture and Urban Studies; in the last year she has developed, among other activities and with other board colleagues, a series of activities to support the Department in selecting and supporting strategic research topics and organizing research activities. She is also member of a team supporting the President of the Bachelor and Master programs in Urban Planning in promoting these teaching programs within secondary level students. She is finally Erasmus coordinator for a number of Erasmus exchange programs in the field of urban studies and planning.

- Université III Lumière Lyon, FR (prof. R. Verhage)
- Institut d'urbanisme de Paris (Université Paris-Est Créteil ; prof. Christine Lelevrier)
- Institute français d'urbanism (Université de Marne-la-Vallée ; prof. Christian Lefevre)
- Dortmund Technische Universitat (prof. K. Zimmermann)

3. RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

3.1 Research activities within Research Projects funded on the base of a competitive call within Eu Framework Programs

2013-2015

MY NEIGHBOURHOOD | MY CITY (MyN), Research project funded by the EU under the call CIP-ICT-PSP-2012-6; scientific coordinator for the Politecnico di Milano-DASTU unit prof. G. Concilio and prof. A. Balducci. The project aims at using 'smart' ICT services and citizen/neighborhood generated data to help recreate the social mechanisms which, in the past, ensured that urban neighborhoods coincided with a social system of connected and trusted communities, where the quality of life was very high and people felt safe and happy with a true sense of belonging. As a Team member, she is contributing to the project conceptual framework development, with a critical literature review related to the nature and role of neighborhood in urban theory and urban policies analysis.

VII FP EU PERIPHERIA. 2011, Research project funded by the EU under the VII FP ICT-Policy Support Programme. Scientific coordinator for the Politecnico di Milano, DASTU unit prof. A. Balducci and G. Concilio. The project deals with the development of the Living Lab logic from private business to the urban sphere: the production of knowledge and the role of social innovation in the urban dimension is the central research focus. As a Team Member, she has developed research activities under the Observatory Smart Cities Network. She is co-authoring a chapter in a book dedicated to Smart cities initiatives in Italy.

2006-2008

G-FORS, Governance for Sustainability, EU VI FP, STREP, Priority 7 - "Citizens and Governance in a knowledge-based society" Lead partner Landeshauptstadt Hannover. The project aimed at exploring forms of knowledge and governance in the field of policies for sustainability. In particular it investigated three fields of policies: Particulate Matter reduction policies, Strategic Environmental Assessment, Emission Trades. As a Team member of the Politecnico di Milano, DIAP Group, coordinated by Prof. A. Balducci, she was involved in the Work-packages "Case Studies", developing a case study related to the introduction of a congestion charge in the city of Milan. She has co-edited a book chapter on the results of the research and a journal article, besides the official research report on the case study results (available online).

2007-2008

SPARC (Spatial Planning And Regional Competitiveness) Project, INTERACT, under the V EU FP, Lead Partner Herriot Watt University, UK, funded by the ERDF (INTERACT programme), DCLG and the Government of Luxembourg; coordinated at local level by Prof. A. Balducci. It was a transnational collaborative project aiming at providing a distance learning module to enable practitioners throughout the EU to further the achievement of territorial cohesion and competitiveness. She developed a distance learning teaching module related to Milan urban region context, under the Governance Perspective and contributed to the theory module "Polycentrism".

3.2 Research activities within Research Projects funded on the base of competitive calls at National level

2012-2015 (ongoing)

Prin 2010/11, "Territori post-metropolitani come forme emergenti di Spazio urbano: le sfide della sostenibilità, abitabilità e della Governabilità" (tr. "Post-Metropolitan territories as emergent forms of urban space: the challenges of sustainability, livability and governance"). Three years research project, funded by MIUR (Ministero dell'Istruzione, dell'Università e della Ricerca, tr. "National Ministry of Education and University"), coordinated at national level by prof. A. Balducci: it involves other 7 university research units in Italy (Politecnico di Torino, IUAV, Università di Firenze, Università Piemonte Orientale, Università La Sapienza di Roma, Università Federico II Napoli, Università di Palermo). It aims at exploring the current changes in major urban regions in Italy, in order to develop an updated understanding of urbanization processes and a policy/governance approach able to cope with new emerging urban questions. She has coordinated operatively the application to the national call and contributed actively to the design of the research proposal and scientific elaboration of the project. She is now in charge of the operative coordination of the research activities of the network. During the first year work, she has mainly contributed to the scientific ideation, design and implementation of the "Atlas of post-metropolitan cities". In particular, she's also contributing to the specific section of the Atlas dedicated to the governance dimension. She has coauthored a journal article on this and is presenting papers at different national and international conferences.

PRIN 2009/2011 "Il progetto di territorio: metodi, tecniche, esperienze" (tr. "The territorial project: methods, techniques and experiences"). Two years research project, funded by MIUR (Ministero dell'Istruzione, dell'Università e della Ricerca, tr. "National Ministry of Education and University"), coordinated at national level by prof. A. A. Magnaghi, Florence State University and locally by prof. A. Balducci and G. Ferraresi). She was a member of the POLIMI unit; in particular she has contributed to the development of the general theme "Riconfigurazioni del territorio delle regioni dell'urbanizzazione diffusa" (tr. "New territorial assemblages in the diffuse urban regions"), with a research project on the role of Urban Agriculture in metropolitan context in the production of public goods. She has edited one journal article and one co-authored book chapter on this topic.

PRIN 2005/2007 "I territori della città in trasformazione: innovazioni delle descrizioni e nelle politiche" (tr. "The territories of the changing cities: innovations in descriptions and policies"). Two years research project, funded MIUR (Ministero dell'Istruzione, dell'Università e della Ricerca, tr. "National Ministry of Education and University"), coordinated at national level by prof. A. Balducci. She has been assigned the role of operative coordination of the National research network (Roma III, Roma Sapienza, IUAV, Firenze); she has contributed to the research project design and implementation and during the two years she has developed a specific scientific contribution on the changing nexus between territoriality-sovereignty-citizenship in urban regions, in particularly studying the relevance of mobility practices in contemporary society. She has co-edited the main two books, dedicated to illustrate the results of the research project; she has been in charge of the organization of the final research conference in 2009.

PRIN 1999/2001, LE POLITICHE URBANE E TERRITORIALI TRA GOVERNMENT E GOVERNANCE (tr. “Urban and territorial policies between Government e Governance”), Two years research project, funded by the National Ministry of Education and University, coordinated at national level by Prof. PL. Crosta (IUAV). She has contributed to the research activities with a specific research contract on the topic of the “Bottom up production of public goods”, developing qualitative research on the public space maintenance projects.

3.3 Research activities within Research-Consultancy Projects by DASTU/ DIAP/METIS/DST at Politecnico di Milano

“Istituzioni di governo metropolitano, ruolo delle business community e processi di pianificazione strategica: una analisi di benchmarking a scala europea e considerazioni sul caso milanese”, DASTU-ASSOLOMBARDA (tr. “Metropolitan government institutions: the role of business communities and strategic planning processes: benchmarking analysis at European level and considerations upon the Milan case”) coordinated by prof. G. Pasqui, funded by ASSOLOMBARDA, Association of Milan Economic Entrepreneurs. The Research contract aims at investigating the possible meanings of strategic planning in the future metropolitan city and the role that economic actors can play in supporting an innovative approach to metropolitan governance. She will contribute to the development of a benchmark analysis, in order to produce possible scenarios of actions.

“Supporto alle attività istituzionali del Comune di Milano nell’ambito della Conferenza cittadina sul decentramento”, DASTU- COMUNE DI MILANO (tr. “Scientific support to institutional activities of the municipality of Milan towards the institution of the metropolitan city and the activation of the city conference on decentralization”) coordinated under the scientific responsibility of prof. G. Pasqui and V. Fedeli. She co-designed and co-coordinated the project with prof. G. Pasqui: the research activities developed along two main axes: the exploration of metropolitan government models in Europe, in order to support the Municipality of Milan in its process of implementation of the national law instituting metropolitan cities; the analytical study of the limits of the current decentralization zones in which the city of Milan is divided and the elaboration of new scenarios of decentralization. In both cases she coordinated together with Pasqui the research activities of a team of colleagues; she also mainly contributed on the first axis on the base of cases studies report (available online) and the organization of an international seminar based on comparative methodology; on the second designing and implementing the construction of the “Atlas of decentralization” (available online), and presenting and discussing it in the occasion of public debates.

“Elaborazione di un documento sulla integrazione socio economica territoriale delle Province di Lecco, Como e Varese”, DASTU-CCIAA Lecco-Como (tr. “Support to the Elaboration of a white paper on the socio-economic and territorial integration of the Province of Lecco, Como and Varese”), coordinated by prof. Balducci and funded by the Chambers of Commerce of Lecco and Como -CCIAA di Lecco e CCIAA di Como). The research activities she developed were mainly aimed at exploring the new possible boundaries of a part of Lombardy region: the project was part of the reflection developed at local level in order to implement the national spending review, which introduced the redefinition of the roles and geographies of the second tier of government in Italy (the Provinces).

2012

Detroit-Amsterdam: the effects of the crisis and challenges in the spatial planning field. Self-funded research project developed in collaboration with prof. Marco Facchinetti. It was dedicated to explore on the one hand the effects of the crisis on cities in Europe and USA, on the other to understand the role assigned to spatial planning processes in dealing with the crisis. Qualitative analysis, interviews and study visits were organized and the results of the research were presented at international conferences and published in Journal Articles.

2010-2011

Università e città: Milano, la città degli studi (tr. “University as a urban actors: Milan, a university city”). Self-funded research project on the role of University as an urban actor in the Milan context; the research project was designed and coordinated together with F. Cognetti and prof. A. Balducci and developed after a research proposal presented to a national research call, but not funded. She coordinated, together with the two colleagues, a large research team, made by ph d students, and master students, scholars in the preparation of the first updated report on the role and relevance of the University functions in the city of Milan. The research was published by AIM, Associazione Interessi Metropolitani, in a co-authored book.

DUBAI URBAN DEVELOPMENT FRAMEWORK (2010), DIAP-AECOM. Coordinated by prof. A. Balducci, a Department research Team, contributed to the development of the “Vision and indicators” for the elaboration of Dubai Urban Master Plan, as subcontractor of AECOM Middle East, charged by Dubai Urban Government for the Master Plan update. She was involved as member of the team in the elaboration of a new set of urban design and policy design benchmarking activities and selection of indicators to shape and support the Strategic Vision. She also had roles of team operative coordination and she was invited in Dubai to present the teamwork. She has presented a number of research papers at international conferences on this work and published a comparative research article.

Governare la Metropoli Milanese, DiAP/Camera di Commercio di Milano (tr. "Governing Milan Metropolis") POLITECNICO DI MILANO. CAMERA DI COMMERCIO DI MILANO, coordinated by prof. B. Dente. The research, funded by the Chamber of Commerce of Milan, aimed at exploring the spaces of cooperation in the Milan urban region on four main policy issues (Housing, University, Mobility and Touristic offer). In particular as member of the sub-group coordinated by prof. A. Balducci, she explored the role of Social Housing Policies in Milan Urban Region, together with G. Rabaiotti e G. Nardone, in order to identify main critical issues and possible innovative projects, among which the institution of a Metropolitan Agency for Social rent. She co-authored a research report available online.

Dieci anni di pianificazione strategica in Italia, DiAP/RECS (tr. "Ten Years of Strategic Planning In Italy") coordinated by prof. G. Pasqui, the research project was promoted and funded by RECS (Rete delle Città Strategiche, tr. Network of Strategic Cities) with the aim of producing an assessment on the results of a decade of strategic planning processes in Italy. The report, co-authored together with G. Pasqui and S. Armondi was published under the title "Rapporto di valutazione su dieci anni di valutazione strategica in Italia" (tr. "An evaluation of the experiences of strategic planning in Italy in the last ten years") and is available online. it is based on qualitative interviews to main protagonists of these experiences in most relevant cases of middle-size cities, promoting strategic planning in Italy in the last decade.

3.4 Research design activities: proposal developed and presented at National and international calls, but not successful

In the last decade, Valeria Fedeli has been involved in the preparation of a number of research proposal presented in international and National research call. Even if not successful, also due to the high competition, these occasions are central in developing research project design skills and for developing ideas and cooperation networks. At the same time many of them have been incubators of generative research ideas. In particular:

- At local level. she has presented as Coordinator or Team member since 2008, research proposals to the Athenaeum competition 5per mille and POLISOCIAL (on the following topics: “Mobile Cities/Closed cities. European cities and territories at a crossroad?”;

“Universities as urban actors: Milan as university city”; “Urban Serving University”; “Strategie partecipative e analisi multi-criteri per la rigenerazione urbana dei quartieri in crisi”, “Representing the invisible citizens of the metropolitan city”. In most cases the proposals were short-listed;

- At National level she has participated in different research proposals, as application to national calls and in particular she was the Leader of two proposals, under the FIRB (“Future in Research scheme” in 2009 (FIRB 2009, “Nuovi attori della governance territoriale: ‘città in cerca di università’ e università come imprenditori locali di politiche di sviluppo e di internazionalizzazione delle città. Una ricostruzione del quadro italiano e apprendimenti da esperienze internazionali”) and 2011 (Italian cities and the international economic crisis: analysing and understanding impacts with respect to security, inclusiveness, and innovation). Both proposal received very high evaluations but were not selected.
- At international level she has participated in a series of research proposal preparation processes. Among the others: 2014-2013 Cost project “Strategic Planning in Europe; 2009/2010, “WALK/Welfare Arrangements and Local Knowledge”, FP7-SSH-2010 - Collaborative Project (small or medium-scale focused research project), SSH.2010.2.1-2. Local welfare systems favouring social cohesion, lead Partner Darmstadt University of Technology (TUD); 2009/2010 “Ex-ECUS, Exchange platform for European and Chinese Urbanization Studies”, SICA, Collaborative Project, Small or medium-scale focused research project, SSH.2010.4.1-3 Understanding urbanisation trends and processes in contemporary China, lead Partner DIAP, Politecnico di Milano, resp. Prof. A. Balducci; 2009/2010, “PLANSO- Knowledge and action: planning schools for a knowledge based society”, Coordination and support actions (Coordinating), Sis 2010 -1.4.2; 2009 Appel a propositions DIACT “Étude relative aux Politiques et pratiques d’aménagement du territoire sur 8 pays”, coordinated by Michel Carmona, Université Sorbonne; 2008, coordinated by prof. Gilles Novarina, Institut d’Urbanisme de Grenoble, “Quelles durabilites pour la ville diffuse? Approche comparée européenne”; “EDGE Project”, promoted by prof. Robin Hambleton, UWE Bristol.
